TRANSITIONAL LIVING REIMAGINED

The Problem:

For decades, the operators of “Transitional Living” facilities have been run without the aid of technology and other resources that higher levels of services in the behavioral health space have enjoyed for years. Simply put, Transitional Living operators haven’t had the support they need to attract residents and operate their facilities at scale.

Seekhaven fills the void in the “LIT” (Living in Transition) market by helping transitional living facility operators and their potential residences that are unheard of in the industry. Residents find one another, while offering levels of support and serve.

Seekhaven’s platform will optimize transitional living operations and increases their value proposition to seekers.

How We Solve it

For the transitional living facility operators,

Seekhaven provides access to a vast audience, and access to life transformative services, via AI Technology, including:

- Technology enabled property management
- Pinpoint marketing
- Group Partnership Purchasing Agreements
- Payment processing
- Credit reporting
- Micro-lending
- Booking cancellation insurance
- Reporting capabilities (needed for regional funding support)
- Clear data reporting for grant applications and regional funding opportunities

We Serve the Seeker

For potential residents using Seekhaven Platform

They can find the recovery facilities and resources needed, searching by type, services & location. With Seek Haven Membership, services include:

- Job placement through WOTC grants
- Credit reporting and restoration
- Group purchasing agreements with bundled services, i.e. cable, electricity, water and trash
- On-demand legal services
- Clear data reporting for applications and regional funding opportunities
- Affiliate telehealth partnerships providing relapse prevention, CBT, and trauma therapy within the sober living and transitional housing environment.
